

Escape to Everywhere

Design a New Form of Transport

Look at the different images below. They show different forms of transport. Use these images as inspiration to create your own form of transport that people can use to escape to anywhere in the world and beyond. You may choose to create a new form of transport that uses some or all of the things you see in the images.

In the box below, draw and label the features of your new form of transport. Remember to use your imagination and be creative!

Design a New Form of Transport

Now that you have drawn and labelled the features of your new form of transport, explain how it all works. You will need to:

- Give your transport a name.
- Explain where it will be able to escape to.
- Explain each feature and why it is a necessary feature to have.
- Give a short presentation providing these key details.
